Community mapping and collaboration: Referrals

This document is part of the Complex Care Startup Toolkit, a practical collection of guides, templates, and other tools to launch and grow a new complex care program. Find the full toolkit at www.nationalcomplex.care/startup-toolkit.

Individuals with complex needs often rely on a community of organizations providing holistic services to meet their diverse needs. Management and tracking of referrals between organizations is key to improving access and service delivery.

Key considerations

1. Identifying and verifying community resources will help develop referral pathways and create connections and partnerships with supporting providers and organizations. Creating and tracking referrals is an important component of complex care management and coordination.
2. What is your process for making and tracking referrals to internal and external service providers throughout your community?

Below, find resources you can use as you work through each of these key considerations.

Resources

Key consideration # 1: Identifying and verifying community resources will help develop referral pathways and create connections and partnerships with supporting providers and organizations. Creating and tracking referrals is an important component of complex care management and coordination.

About the Camden Coalition

We are a multidisciplinary nonprofit working to improve care for people with complex health and social needs in Camden, NJ, and across the country. The Camden Coalition works to advance the field of complex care by implementing person-centered programs and piloting new models that address chronic illness and social barriers to health and well-being. Supported by a robust data infrastructure, cross-sector convening, and shared learning, our community-based programs deliver better care to the most vulnerable individuals in Camden and regionally.

The National Center for Complex Health and Social Needs (National Center), an initiative of the Camden Coalition, connects complex care practitioners with each other and supports the field with tools and resources that move complex care forward. The National Center's founding sponsors are the Atlantic Philanthropies, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and AARP.
